TOMMY'S LITTLE BOOM

Johnson Has Everything His Own Way at the Ohio Convention.

Edward Eggleston Reported Dead in New York—A Well Known Author.

SPECIAL JUDGE APPOINTED

HAD THE CENTER OF THE STAGE.

Sandusky, O., Sept. 3.—Tom Johnson, having carried everything before him last night, and securing control of the Democratic state committee, was the star performer in the convention here today.

Yesterday he won a decisive victory in the preliminary meetings of the Democratic state convention, which meets here tomorrow. Ever since he was elected as chairman of the convention by the state central committee it has been the general opinion that this occasion would be made the initial public opening of his candidacy for the next Democratic nomination for president of the United States. In that respect his success has been phenomenal. No Ohio candidate for the presidency ever had more unanimity of sentiment in his favor among the delegates at a state convention than was shown at the meetings tonight by congressional districts for the selection of officers and members of the various committees.

DIED OF PARALYSIS.

Madison, Ind., Sept. 3.—News has been received here that Edward Eggleston, the author, died of paralysis at Lake George, N. Y., last night.

APPOINTED SPECIAL JUDGE.

Frankfort, Sept. 3.—Governor Beckham today appointed R. C. Warden, of Stanford, special judge to preside over civil cases in the Whiteley circuit court, set for September 8.

MADE A BRIEF INSPECTION.

William Renshaw, superintendent of machinery of the I. C., of Chicago, arrived in the city this morning from Chicago, and after a brief inspection of the local shops, left at noon for Louisville on the fast passenger train.

BIG CHECKS SENT OUT.

Frankfort, Sept. 3.—Checks aggregating $66,589.87 for quarterly payments for the Eastern and Western Insane Asylums, the deaf mute institute at Danville and the Feeble Minded institute at Frankfort were sent out by the auditor today.

BOYS ROBBED.

Captain Henry Bailey this afternoon received a telephone message from the county stating that two negroes had stolen some clothing from two of the white boys working on the railroad extension, and the men are now on the lookout for them. They are expected to come in on the Cairo road.

DREW TOO MUCH PAY

Lieutenant Watterson, of Kentucky, Forced to Resign.

It Is Alleged That He Drew Pay Three Times for August.

HE WAS ALLOWED TO QUIT

Washington, Sept. 3.—Inevitable exposure of his duplication of his pay accounts has resulted in the resignation from the army of Lieutenant Henry Watterson, Jr., Twenty-ninth United States infantry, now in Manila. He is a son of Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal. The extent of the amount of his duplications is underestimated as yet, but it probably will be in the neighborhood of $1,000. Although the offense is punishable by court-martial, when Lieut. Watterson offered to make good the amount, General Chaffee recommended that he be permitted to resign, instead of being obliged to face the charge.

Lieutenant Watterson, who is a native of the District of Columbia, but who has lived most of his life in Kentucky, served as a private, and non-commissioned officer in a Kentucky volunteer regiment during the Spanish war. His record was excellent, and he was appointed to the regular army, assigned to the Tenth infantry and later to the Twenty-ninth. He went to the Philippines last June.

It is reported that in accordance with custom affecting officers going out to the Philippines, he was permitted to draw a month's pay due him and a month's pay in advance at San Francisco. This he is supposed to have spent recklessly, and upon his arrival at Manila, he immediately applied for and received pay for the same time he had been paid in San Francisco. This was not discovered until the records of all paymasters were audited. But before the discovery was made it is said that he duplicated pay accounts for August three times. Information was received at the department today that he had also duplicated accounts for September. The order accepting Lieut. Watterson's resignation was issued at the war department yesterday.

CASE CONTINUED.

ED SMITH WILL NOT BE TRIED AT THIS TERM.

The case against Ed Smith of Fulton, charged with killing Captain Hardeman Robinson, agent for the Illinois Central at Fulton, who was shot, it was alleged, through accident, and died at the Illinois Central hospital here, has been continued in the Hickman circuit court until January.

ENGINEER WASHINGTON BACK.

HIS MOTHER DIED THE DAY HE ARRIVED IN VIRGINIA.

City Engineer L. A. Washington returned this morning from Virginia, where he was called August 19 by his mother's illness. He arrived on the 21st and his mother died the same day. She was a most estimable lady, and her death was greatly deplored.

Mr. Washington brought his family with him when he returned last night.

FATALLY KICKED.

Fulton, Sept. 3.—Judge E. R. Walker, aged 75 years, an ex-sheriff, ex-judge and ex-representative, was kicked in the head by a mule and cannot recover.

THE PRESIDENT HURT

Frightful Accident to His Coach—Secret Service Man Killed.

Lenox Mass., Sept. 3.—A terrible accident overtook the president's coach a short distance from Pittsfield this morning about 10 o'clock. After a brief visit to the home of former Senator Dawes, President Roosevelt and party started on a long drive to Lenox. They had not gone far when an electric car ran into them, throwing every one out and badly damaging the coach.

The president received several cuts on the head, Governor Crane was painfully bruised and William Craig, a secret service man, was instantly killed.

The president was able to resume his journey to Lenox, but sent word ahead that there was to be no cheering.

The cause of the accident is not exactly clear.

CIRCUIT COURT

There Have Been Two Convictions Thus Far.

Alleged Perjurer Received a Three Year Sentence Today.

Circuit court convened this morning for the third day with the case against Walter Moody, colored, on trial. Moody was arrested several months ago on a warrant charging him with the theft of a dress shirt from the Harbour Pitts Co., on North Third street. He denied in court that he took the shirt and stated that he did not even know where the store was located. The court held him over for false swearing as it was proven in the lower court that he did take the dress shirt and this morning the jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at three years in the state penitentiary at Eddyville.

B. H. Smithers was this morning excused as a petit juror and the name of T. J. Dossett substituted. At press time the case against Robert Craig and Robert Skillian was on trial, the former being tried first. They are charged with breaking into a house occupied by a Mrs. Bloodworth and securing numerous articles.

Mr. John M. Chalk, of Memphis, formerly of the city, is visiting relatives here. His niece, Miss Sadie J. Hatch, of Vandalia, Ill., is also here on a visit and will accompany him to Memphis for a visit.

NEGRO LYNCHED

Quiet Execution by Party of Arkansas Men.

Attempted Criminal Assault Followed by Speedy Vengeance.

Stephens, Ark., Sept. 3.—A negro named Hog Wilson, about six miles north of this place, was hanged by a party of men, relatives and friends of Miss Lue Drake.

Wilson attempted a criminal assault upon Miss Drake yesterday morning while she was in the garden gathering vegetables, the family being away. Her brother, coming home a little afterward, was informed and soon he, with neighbors, had Wilson in custody. He confessed his crime and they hung him without delay. No excitement.

SLIGHT DAMAGES.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED TO TRIMBLE STREET TODAY.

The fire department was called out this morning about 10:30 o'clock to extinguish a small blaze in the roof of a house occupied by Jennie Beach, colored, at 625 Trimble street. The fire originated from a defective flue and had gained little headway when the firemen arrived and was speedily extinguished with little damage.

Mr. Claude Higgins went to Yuma, Ariz., at noon today for his health.

ONLY A MARE'S NEST

The Railroad Commission Begins Killing Time at Louisville.

L. and N. Officials Summoned to Testify at a Secret Meeting of the Board.

NOTHING HAS BEEN DONE YET

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 3.—The Kentucky state railroad commission, of which C. C. McChord of Springfield is chairman, is still investigating the alleged plans for the merger of the Southern and Louisville and Nashville railways with a view to taking action to frustrate the consolidation if it should be attempted. A secret meeting of the board was held at Seelbach's hotel in this city, but none of the commissioners would discuss what transpired during the session further than to state that Judge Alex Humphrey, attorney for the Southern railway, and W. L. Mapather, chief clerk to President Milton H. Smith, of the Louisville and Nashville, were present at the meeting.

Walker D. Hines, first vice president of the Louisville and Nashville road, appeared before the board this afternoon. President Milton H. Smith of the Louisville and Nashville and Atilla Cox, president of the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis, and a director of the Louisville and Nashville, have also been summoned.

The proceedings of the commission's sessions are carefully guarded and information of the progress being made is difficult to obtain. Chairman McChord has not heard from any of the members of the other commission, whose states are penetrated by these roads.

A prominent Louisville railroad man who has studied the situation says the talk of a "merger" of the L. and N., Southern, Seaboard Air Line and Atlantic Coast Line roads is "nonsense." His opinion is that the scheme is simply a "community of ownership," whereby J. Pierpont Morgan and his associates in the matter can control the four roads named, and perhaps the Illinois Central, and operate them as friendly but independent lines for their own financial benefit.

SUSPECT HELD AT NASHVILLE.

FILLS DESCRIPTION OF ONE OF THE MEN WHO ROBBED TRAIN NEAR THAT CITY.

Nashville, Sept. 3.—The police have arrested a man on suspicion of being one of the two who held up and robbed the express messenger on the Louisville and Nashville train near here last night. His description tallies closely with that of the robber given by the messenger. He gives two names, and is otherwise very hazy in accounting for himself. He is being held until the express messenger can get a look at him.

THE SHILOH.

THIS IS THE NAME OF CAPTAIN ROGER'S NEW BOAT.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 3.—The Shiloh, a mailboat, to ply Tennessee river from Savannah to Danville, was gracefully launched at Howard's at 4:15 p. m. yesterday, the event being quite a social function. Miss Lonie McDaniel, a native of Memphis, christened the craft. There were four maids of honor and 200 escorts.

The Shiloh belongs to the St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet Co., and will be completed in seven weeks.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Will Peck, of Unionville, Ill. Met His Fate on the Bettie Owen.

He Was Caught and Crushed by the Pitman While Attempting to Catch a Dog.

LIVED ONLY A SHORT TIME

Will Peck, colored, age about 35, of near Unionville, Ill., met a tragic death this morning about 6:30 o'clock at the Illinois landing opposite the city, while attempting to catch a small dog and put it off the steamer Bettie Owen.

Peck boarded the boat on the Illinois side with a wagon load of apples he was bringing to town for sale, and his little dog ran aboard the boat as he drove on. Peck did not want to bring the canine to Paducah and tried to drive it off the boat with a switch he used in driving his horses. The little dog ran in between the cylinder timber and the side of the boat and in leaning over the cylinder timber to lift the animal out, Peck was caught by the slow revolving wheel crank and his stomach crushed into a shapeless mass by the piece of machinery. The right side of his body was torn to pieces and the bones broken and laid bare to the knee of the right leg.

When Peck started into the place several companions who were coming across with produce and other farm productions saw his danger and told him to remain away, and when the wheel crank caught him Green Maxwell, colored, tried to pull him out but did not succeed. The injured man was laid on the deck of the boat, where he died about 15 minutes after the accident. The only words spoken after the accident were, "I am pretty badly hurt, aint I?" spoken to Maxwell and several white farmers, and then with a twitching of the limbs he passed into unconsciousness and died as the boat reached this shore.

Coroner Peal and Undertakers Mattil, Effinger and Co. were notified and came to the boat to prepare the remains for burial. Coroner Peal will hold an inquest some time today. The body was prepared for burial on the boat and taken to Brookport where the preparations for the funeral will take place. Peck had no people as far as could be learned, and had been living with R. B. Leeper, a farmer living near Unionville, Ill., for the past three years. He had been to town often and was a trusted employe of Leeper. The remains will be buried under the directions of Mr. Leeper, who has been notified of the accident and death.

The accident was due only to the victim's carelessness and lack of judgment.

ANOTHER LARGE HOUSE.

THE ARNOLD STOCK COMPANY PLAYING TO EXCELLENT BUSINESS.

"Midnight in Chinatown" was presented by the Arnold Stock company last night to a large house, and gave splendid satisfaction. These talented artists are becoming great favorites, and the vaudeville features of the show are excelled nowhere.

The cabinet trick is one of the most mystifying ever put on the stage, and no one can explain it.

The singing and comedy features are of the highest class, and the entire show is equal to many at the highest price. This evening the company will present "The Struggle for Life."

LOCAL BOARDS MEET

The Council and General Council Held Important Meetings

A Vote on City Bonds Ordered By the Council—Invalid Bonds to Be Paid.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

JOINT SESSION.

The council and board of aldermen met in joint session last night with all members present except Alderman Leigh.

The mayor's call for the joint meeting, to elect a milk and meat inspector and also for the election of three new members of the board of health, was read and Drs. Duley's and Hessig's names placed in the nomination for the former position. The vote showed a total of 11 to Dr. Duley and 5 to Dr. Hessig. Dr. Duley was declared elected milk and meat inspector to succeed Dr. H. Hessig, who has held the position since the office was created.

The motion to go into an election of members of the health board was adopted and the names of Dr. Jesse Gilbert, the druggist, as a citizen member, was presented and elected by a full vote. Dr. H. T. Rivers and C. H. Brothers were also elected.

The joint session was here adjourned and the business of the common council was then taken up.

COUNCILMANIC BOARD.

The minutes were read and adopted. As the new rule to have all ordinances and resolutions copied in full on the minutes necessitated the consumption of so much time it was moved and the motion adopted, that the clerk will not have to read all the ordinances and resolutions spread on the book.

A communication from former Sewerage Inspector George Gardner as to what became of his sewerage book was referred to the sewerage committee.

The mayor read his recommendation to carry the bond case to the court of appeals, saying that he thought the decision of Judge Evans not right and thought the case should be carried to a higher court. He strongly recommended the appealing of the case and by motion the paper of recommendation was received and filed and Councilman Young Taylor moved that an appeal be taken.

Councilman Fowler stated that he considered it "throwing money away" to appeal the case and knew what he was talking about as he had made a thorough investigation of the matter himself.

He said the invalidity of the bonds laid in a technicality only and that to go to any further expense in appealing the case he would just as soon throw the money in the Ohio river.

Councilman Hummel stated that he thought it useless to appeal the case and was opposed to it.

Councilman Potter stated that he thought the appeal would not cost so much as thought by some of the councilmen and was in favor of taking the appeal.

Speaker Reed asked the cost of an appeal from City Attorney Worten and the latter stated that there was no use to go any further with the case, as the higher court would undoubtedly confirm the decision of the lower court. As to the cost of an appeal he said the cost would not be less than $300.

"As to the moral side of the matter," Mr. Worten stated, "the railroad complied with the contract and built the road and the bonds were issued, and that the higher courts did not pay much attention to a small technicality but passed on the moral standing; the right of the matter." He stated that he felt sure the higher court would confirm the actions of the lower court.

Mr. Reed said that he was mayor at the time the bonds were issued and that the city got what it contracted for and lived up to its part of the contract and that he hoped the appeal would be defeated which was by a vote of 8 to 4 the councilmen voting as follows:

Brooks nay, Fowler nay, Gilson nay, Hannan nay, Hummel nay, Jackson nay, Johnson yes, Niehaus nay, Potter yes, Reed nay, Taylor yes, Woolfolk yes.

The regular bills against the city for salaries, etc., amounting to a total of $10,819.24, were allowed. Councilman Fowler stated that he thought the medical bill against the city for the past month, amounting to $57.87 for drugs was rather large, and moved that Dr. J. E. Woelfle, one of the acting city physicians, be dismissed, and that Dr. Robert Rivers be retained. He also stated that the city physician had done wrong in leaving on a vacation without notifying the council so that the council appoint a substitute in his place. The motion to have any public officer report to the mayor and council when he intends to leave the city was carried by a full vote.

The report from Treasurer Wm. Kraus was read and adopted. It showed a balance of $9,547.36 in the hands of the treasurer.

The auditor's report was read, received and filed and concurred in.

The wharfmaster's report, showing a collection of $44 wharfage, was received and filed.

The city weigher's report showing a collection of $250 since the last report, was received and filed.

An amendment to the ordinance providing for the creating of the office of superintendent of city electric light plant and providing for the employment of engineers, firemen and other employees of that plant was read. The amendment provided for the salaries,

Fowler.

The number of bonds to be issued was fixed at 50 of $500 each, bearing a 4 percent interest and the motion to put the matter before the people for a vote was adopted.

An ordinance providing for an issuance of bonds for street improvement funds, was read. The amount of bonds to be issued was fixed at $100,000 with a 40 year limit, bearing 4 per cent interest. The bonds will be of $1,000 each, and the city retains the privilege of calling other bonds in after 20 years.

The motion to place the matter before the people for a vote was adopted. The ordinance for issuing of bonds for the purpose of erecting a new market house, was read. Councilman Fowler said he was in favor of issuing $5,000 worth of bonds but was not in favor of building a new one as the people do not go to market any more like they used to, claiming that the marketing is being done over the telephone. Councilman Potter differed from Councilman Fowler, and said the market house would pay the bonds within the limit set.

Councilman Fowler stated that he hoped the people would vote them down. The amount was fixed at $20,000, with a twenty year time limit at 4 per cent interest.

The motion to place the matter before the people for a vote was adopted.

An ordinance creating a fund for Oak Grove cemetery improvements was given first reading. The proceeds of all lots sold shall be placed in that fund.

The monthly report of the fire chief was received and by recommendation it was ordered that no telephone poles be placed nearer than four feet of fire plugs.

etc., and gave the council committee power to discharge with or without cause, the superintendent of the electric light plant, or under employees.

Several objections were raised to the discharging part of the amendment and it was lost by a vote of 8 to 4.

The cattle herder ordinance was presented for second passage, which was strongly urged by Councilman Fowler. The ordinance was lost by a vote of 8 to 4.

The market house ordinance, providing for the permanent location of the market house at the place the market is now located, and also prescribing rules and regulations for the operation of the same, was given first reading. The ordinance is only the old market house ordinance revised, the difference being that a consolidation has been made.

The ordinance requiring all telephone and telegraph companies doing business in the city to pay the city $1.25 per annum for space occupied by each and every pole was given first reading. The chief of police ordinance was given first reading. The ordinance gives him control over the police force.

An ordinance prescribing a penalty to those encroaching on the city scale lot was given first passage. This ordinance was gotten up in order that the nuisance caused by farmers standing their horses in the lot and blocking the place.

The ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds to secure money with which to erect a new city hospital, was presented. In discussion of the cost Dr. Brooks stated that he thought $25,000 would not be too low an estimate of the cost. "The cost of the hospital will depend," he said, "on the cost of the ground."

The motion to vote $25,000 worth of bonds was carried. The time set for the payment of the bonds was fixed at 20 years, by motion of Councilman

It was reported that the hose recently purchased had been received after 200 feet had been tested and Councilman Fowler was opposed to paying for the same until the full amount of hose had been properly tested. The motion to have the fire chief test all the 4,000 feet was lost.

A report from Superintendent Harry Wallace, of the city electric light plant saying that certain repairs were needed at the plant. The report was received and filed.

Several deeds to lots in Oak Grove were ratified.

A complaint was made by the property owners that the Tully Livery Co. was maintaining a nuisance in the way of leaving manure about in general. The matter was referred.

By motion the council adjourned.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The board of education met last night in regular session with Trustees Leake, Gleaves, Bauer, Lally, Weille, Fuller, Jackson, Mammen and Sutherland, present.

Superintendent Hatfield's report was verbal, and was in effect that everything is ready for the opening of the schools next Monday, and the buildings have been about completed. He said entrance cards were being given to new pupils every day. He also made a report of the institute being held by Miss Elizabeth Walsh, of Louisville, and asked the board to appropriate $50 with which to pay her.

Chairman Bauer read miscellaneous bills which were allowed.

The $50 asked for Miss Walsh was

Mercury and Potash

ONLY SERVE AS A MASK FOR CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

They hide its repulsive form, and this serpent disease, stupefied by these drugs, lies dormant until the effects have worn off or treatment is discontinued, when it breaks down the mask and becomes as full of life and venom as ever. Mercury and Potash may dry up the sores and eruptions, but at the same time they drive the poison back into the blood and system, where it feeds upon the tender tissues, membranes and nerves, finally breaking out in most disgusting sores and even destroying the flesh and bones.

Mercury and Potash cannot accomplish a radical and permanent cure. They have a palliative but not curative effect upon this treacherous snake-like disease. These drugs produce mercurial Rheumatism, destroy the teeth and corrode the membranes of the stomach and bowels, causing inflammation and dyspepsia, nervousness and general derangement of the system.

S. S. S. is a Specific for Contagious Blood Poison, and the only antidote for the peculiar virus that spreads so quickly throughout the system, corrupting the blood and infecting every organ and fibre of the body.

S. S. S. destroys the serpent, and eliminates every atom of poison from the blood, it makes a thorough and radical cure of the disease, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. contains no minerals of any kind, but is a purely vegetable remedy and we offer $1,000 for proof to the contrary.

Write us about your case and our physicians will cheerfully advise without charge. Our home treatment book will be sent free to all who desire it.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Frank Grosvenor,

No. 212 Twenty-first St., Galveston, Tex.

GALVESTON, TEX., March 13, 1902.

For three years after my marriage I felt peculiar bearing-down pains such as I had never experienced before. I tried different remedies but found it was only money wasted. I then consulted a physician who treated me for two months and then said my ovaries were diseased and that I would never get well unless I had an operation. I knew that would mean that I would never have a child and I dreaded the ordeal. I changed physicians but found this did not help me any, and I was in despair.

My sister-in-law then visited me and when I told her of my trouble she said: "If you had used common sense and Wine of Cardui you would not have been in such a plight." She had used it in her own home and it had carried her through three times when she had children. I sent for some at once and took it faithfully and now find to my great joy that it was all she claimed for it. New strength and with it new hope came back to me and it seemed as if every dose gave me new life.

Within three months I was changed from a dragged out mortal weary of life to a hearty, healthy woman full of ambition and life. No operation was needed and better than all I became the mother of a little girl, the pride and joy of the household. I have had two other children since without a particle of trouble. I am well and never take any medicine but Wine of Cardui. I only write that other poor sick women could know of this life-giving medicine and would take it without spending time and money on doctors, who don't cure.

Mrs. Frank Grosvenor.

WINE OF CARDUI, the simple remedy which Mrs. Grosvenor advises you to take has transformed her from a sick, discouraged woman to the bright, happy, healthy person you see in this portrait. Instead of languishing on a bed of sickness Mrs. Grosvenor is now equipped for any duty of womanhood. There are some chronic cases which no medicine can cure but nineteen out of every twenty sufferers today may have the health Mrs. Grosvenor has if they will only take the Wine of Cardui treatment as Mrs. Grosvenor took it. This vegetable Wine regulates the menstrual flow, making this important function both healthful and painless. The bearing-down pains which make life a torture stop when Wine of Cardui is used and the terrible smarting pains and the inflammation cease. Though powerful in correcting the irregularities of menstruation, Wine of Cardui is a very mild medicine. Any woman may take it without a doctor's supervision, although doctors often give it to their patients when their own remedies fail. This Wine of Cardui treatment is taken quietly at home. No embarrassing private examinations or offensive operations are necessary. If you secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin taking it today you will feel health returning before the month is up. Why not secure a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist at once? Do not accept any other medicine but the Wine of Cardui treatment which Mrs. Grosvenor writes about.

THE CAIRO EXTENSION IS PROGRESSING SLOWLY.

The work on the Cairo extension of the Illinois Central is progressing slowly and the section hands employed on this end are being worked between Little Cypress and Calvert City on the track.

The grading contractors are causing the delay, and have gotten no further than Perkin's creek with the grading work. Mr. John Lane, the supervisor of the work, thinks after the creek grading is finished the graders will have little trouble.

HOME AGAIN.

MAYFIELD BOY HAS HAD ENOUGH OF WANDERING ABOUT.

Sam Stephenson reached his home in Mayfield last night after a several months' absence drifting about the country. He left and joined the British soldiers in South Africa, and at the conclusion of the war went to London and attended the coronation ceremonies. He expressed himself as being much more pleased to get back than he was to get away.

TO SPREAD OUT.

MAYFIELD IS COMING TOWARD US, IT SEEMS.

The city council at Mayfield has passed an ordinance extending the city limits, so as to include, it is claimed, enough territory to increase the population to 7,000. Mayfield has also ordered new city scales and a city weigher and is really on a boom.

Mr. William Barger, of Cairo, formerly of the city, has returned to accept a position with the Jones installment house.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

A NUMBER OF SMALL CASES ON THIS MORNING'S DOCKET FOR TRIAL.

Irvin Springer, colored, arrested in Charleston, Mo., and brought to the city last night by Captain Henry Bailey, was presented in Judge Sanders' court this morning and arraigned for housebreaking, but the witnesses not having been summoned, the case was continued until tomorrow.

A breach of the peace case against Rensaw Borders and Florence Ward was left open.

A breach of the peace case against George Garvey was continued until tomorrow.

The insulting language case against Mr. Theodore Peters was dismissed.

BIG ITALIAN STRIKE.

THE IRON WORKERS WILL STAY OUT, BUT URGE OTHER STRIKERS TO RETURN TO WORK.

Florence, Italy, Sept. 3.—The indications today are that the general strike which has been in progress since last Friday and which has rendered about 40,000 men idle will end shortly. A conference was held this afternoon between representatives of the metal workers and the managers of the Pignone Iron Works, where the strike originated. It brought no result, and the employees of the Pignone works declare they intend to remain out, but urge all other strikers to return to their work. Florence is quiet and there is no disorder.

HAS NOT RESIGNED.

JUSTICE SHIRAS DENIES REPORT SENT OUT FROM THE EAST.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 3.—Justice George Shiras, Jr., was asked about a report printed in a morning paper that he had sent his resignation from the supreme court bench to the president. "There is nothing in it," said the justice. "It is wholly without foundation. As I have said before, the president will be first to be notified of my resignation. He has no statement from me on the subject." The report was sent out from Lake Champlain.

TO CROWN QUEEN.

CEREMONIES WERE POSTPONED AT CAIRO UNTIL TODAY.

Miss Gertrude Ingram, queen of the Cairo carnival, will be crowned today and presented with a handsome diamond by the Woodmen lodge, who are giving the carnival.

The ceremonies were to have taken place Monday, but were postponed on account of rain, and are set for today.

The carnival bids fair to be successful. Large crowds are attending from surrounding cities.

allowed.

President Leake reported the condition of all the buildings visited yesterday good except the Lee building, which he thought needed some little repairs before the opening of the school.

Messrs. Fuller and Weille for the committee, stated that the Lee building would have to be rebuilt in a year or two and for this reason the committee decided to make no repairs on it. The walls were ordered calcimined and the wainscoting and doors painted at once.

The building committee was authorized to have some leaks in the roof of the Longfellow building repaired.

Mr. Bauer reported that George Garrett, colored, former pupil in the Lincoln school, was involved in a matter concerning his morality and had been forced to marry. He wanted to be admitted to the Lincoln school but the principal was instructed to admit neither him nor his wife.

Mr. Fuller said he had not renewed a $2,000 insurance policy on the Lee building because he thought too much insurance was being carried. The board authorized the committee to cut down the insurance to what deemed advisable.

Chairman Gleaves, of the examination committee, said Miss Kirk, who was elected to the high school, would receive a special examination in the various studies.

The bids for furnishing coal to the schools were opened and all rejected, and the supply committee was authorized to make a contract for coal for the winter.

Prof. E. W. Benton, principal of the Lincoln school, was given leave to address the board and asked that hereafter all reported occurrences calling for investigation, or grievances, in the colored schools, be referred to the teacher, principal or superintendent for investigation before being considered by the board. He also said he had been compelled to teach all grades in the High school and asked for relief. The matter was referred to the superintendent.

The board then adjourned.

CROUP.

Usually begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup—the child will cry for it—and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

Mr. James Caldwell leaves tonight for Frankfort on business.

21 YEARS A DYSPEPTIC.

R. H. Foster, 318 South Second street, Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years; tried many doctors without relief; recently I got a bottle of Herbine. One bottle cured me, I am now tapering off on the second. I have recommended it to my friends; it is curing them, too." 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

GO TO SMITHLAND SATURDAY.

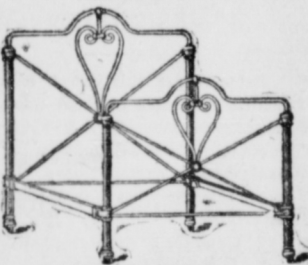

The Masons of Paducah have chartered the steamer Mary Stewart and will go to Smithland Saturday evening to assist in the conferring of degrees. A large delegation is expected to attend.

GOING FURTHER SOUTH.

Fulton, Sept. 3.—There has been a great exodus of negroes from this city to the cotton fields of Lake county, Tennessee. Hundreds have gone. Cooks and all kinds of domestic help are at a premium.

DID THE RIGHT THING.

It is so seldom that the board of councilmen does anything for the benefit of the people outside of the regular routine business, which some one must do, it is really refreshing when there is anything for which it can be commended. Its action last night, however, in passing the ordinance providing for an election to record the sentiment of the people on the issue of $200,000 in bonds for municipal improvements, and its decision not to further contest the over-the-river bond case are acts for which it will doubtless receive the thanks of the best people in Paducah.

The public, generally speaking, it is believed will be found to be in favor of issuing the bonds mentioned, in order to secure the improvements, and if a sufficient majority of those voting desire the issue of bonds, it will relieve the council of any responsibility whatever for the issue, as in issuing the bonds the council will only be acceding to a demand of the people, and any councilman who votes against it after the people have expressed a desire for a bond issue will be putting his own wishes and judgment above those of the people, and will make a serious mistake.

In regard to the $100,000 of over-the-river bonds, the general public, so far as can be determined from expressions heard on all sides, is in favor of recognizing the debt as just and legal, and paying the interest on it and the debt itself when it matures. It was a great mistake for the council that repudiated them to ever take the action that it did, as the railroad had been built, the city secured the benefits of it, and the interest on the bonds had been paid for ten years. It was generally regarded as a mistake in the mayor to advocate a further contest in the case, for while many may believe the bonds are invalid, technically speaking, they are convinced that Paducah is morally obliged to pay them, and could not maintain a spotless credit unless she did. The public as a whole it is believed will indorse the action of the council last night in both the cases named.

THE PRESIDENT

President Roosevelt has fully explained his position on the question of trusts. His recent speeches had aroused no little speculation among men of all political parties. The Democrats seemed to think that the president was about to override the policy of his party, but in a speech delivered yesterday he makes a careful explanation showing his exact position, which is a good one and one that shows, as everything he does shows, his sound judgment.

President Roosevelt had been severely criticized and it is supposed his speech yesterday was to set himself right before the people. He declares that, technically speaking, there is no such thing as a "trust," but that if by "trusts" great corporations are meant, a man should understand the full significance of what it means to destroy them.

Continuing, he declared: "I will go with him if he says destroy the evil in the trust, gladly. (Applause.) I will try to find out that evil. I will seek to apply remedies, which I have already outlined in other speeches. But if his policy, from whatever motive, whether hatred, fear, panic or just sheer ignorance, is to be to destroy the trusts in a way that will destroy all our prosperity—no. Those men who advocate wild and foolish remedies which would be worse than the disease are doing all in their power to perpetuate the evils against which they nominally war, because if we are brought face to face with the naked issue of either keeping or totally destroying a prosperity in which the majority share, but in which some share improperly, why as sensible men we must decide that it is a great deal better that some people should prosper too much than that no one should prosper enough. So that the man who advocates destroying the trusts by measures which would paralyze the industries of the country is at best a quack and at worse an enemy to the republic."

Quite an agitation has resulted from the proposed sparring match at Louisville between McGovern and Corbett, and a strong effort is being made to stop it. Mayor Charles Grainger seems to be a pretty sensible sort, however, and indicates that he will not interfere, because boxing contests are not against the Kentucky law, and there is no indication that the contest there is going to be anything but a sparring exhibition. He says in support of whatever action he will take that he does not believe the law will be transgressed, and that personally he is in favor of boxing, and thinks it vastly more beneficial than harmful to young men. He hopes that future differences, if they come to a question of fight, will be settled with nature's weapons, instead of guns. If the people of Kentucky would encourage sparring more perhaps there would be fewer homicides.

Some public men will not vote for any improvement unless it is at their own back door. Paducah has been without more wharf than she now possesses for many years, and the steamboat business is not what it used to be. It will be interesting to note what some of the opposers of a bond issue will do when the matter of paying about $20,000 for additional wharf improvements comes up in the council.

Hose men declare that for the city to test only four sections of new fire hose out of a total of eighty sections was very foolish. At least twenty-five per cent of all hose should be tested, and in this case only five per cent was tested. The committee must have been afraid that the rest of it wouldn't stand the pressure.

The mayor got sat down on very hard last night in the position he took in the repudiated bond case, and it was a good thing. The mayor of a city ought to advocate the city's payment of its honest debts, no matter whether there is a possibility of its getting out of it by a technicality or not.

Mayfield seems to be looking up, and is going to extend her limits. Well, most every one of the surrounding towns would like to reach out and become a part of Paducah.

There is no conclusive evidence that the railroad commission was discussing the railroad merger simply because it was sitting behind closed doors at Seelbach's.

Owing to the session of the grand jury it is likely the St. Louis excursion will be well patronized Friday.

CLOSE CALL.

WELL KNOWN PADUCAH ARTIST NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH.

Mr. Robert McCune, the sign writer, had a narrow escape from probable fatal injuries yesterday while at work on a stage plank painting signs in Cedar Bluff.

He had his stage swung on small projections and let the hoisting rope hang over the stage and down to the ground. A switch engine came along and caught up the rope, pulling the stage down and leaving Mr. McCune suspended on one rope about sixty feet from the ground. He slid down the rope and landed safely on the ground uninjured. He had just changed his position or he would not have had a rope to catch on and would probably have been thrown to the ground below.

MORE TROUBLE.

SMALL COLORED THIEVES CAUSE THE POLICE MUCH ANNOYANCE.

Bigger Hale and Cecil Smith, the two small colored boys who are wanted for breaking into the residence of Mrs. Emma Thompson on Jefferson street while the family was visiting in Illinois about two weeks ago, continue to dodge the officers and commit numerous petty depredations in the city.

It is alleged that last night they entered the home of Mr. Julius A. Veal, the tailor, on Madison street, and stole some bacon, potatoes and other things from the refrigerator. They seemingly hide in the daytime and steal during the night.

NO MORE RECOGNIZANCES.

Judge Sanders has decided to inaugurate a new rule and will hereafter recognize no persons charged with offenses for their appearance, but will require them to execute a bond. The reason the change has been made is that too many of them fail to show up when simply recognized.

CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED.

The new Baptist church at Lone Oak, this county, will be dedicated next Sunday at 11 a. m., Rev. G. W. Perryman of the First Baptist church preaching the dedicatory sermon. It is a substantial frame structure and is called the Friendship church.

TOOK MANY STITCHES

Steamboat Negro Badly Cut by Another in a Crap Game.

Joe Burk Has His Head Almost Severed by Charles Turpin.

Joe Burk, colored, second cook of the Henry Harley, was taken to the city hall last evening in an almost dying condition from a horrible wound extending from the back of his neck around into his face. His throat was cut from ear to ear, but fortunately the gash was not so deep as it was long.

It was claimed that he and some other steamboat negroes were engaged in a crap game and an argument arose over a half dollar, Charles Turpin, the other claimant to the money, jumping on Burk after the light had been kicked out. He cut him on the head and neck and the victim almost bled to death before the city hall was reached. The patrol wagon was almost saturated with blood.

Dr. Boyd sewed up the wound, the stitches extending from the back of his neck entirely around. Turpin escaped.

Officers Hessian and Friant arrested Turpin about 9 o'clock this morning at the home of his brother on Adams street, and he was taken to the city hall and locked up to await trial Friday.

Burk, the victim, also goes by the name of Burch.

SEPTEMBER ASTROLOGY.

September of this year is a month which, according to Good Luck, the astrological monthly, is fraught with more than the usual number of unluck and "uncertain" days. It diagnoses the remaining days of the month as follows:

3. Good for business generally.
4. Favorable for speculation.
5. An unlucky day.
6. Favorable for those who have property to sell.
7. A doubtful day.
8. Good for journeys.
9. No important work should be begun today.
10. Propitious for courtship and marriages.
11. An uncertain day.
12. Good for business.
13. An unlucky day.
14. Good for love affairs and social intercourse.
15. Favorable for journeys.
16. An uncertain day.
17. A good day on which to ask favors.
18. Favorable for business and journeys.
19. An unlucky day.
20. An uncertain day.
21. Another uncertain day.
22. Favorable for business but only during the very early hours.
23. A bad day on which to have dealings with women.
24. An unlucky day.
25. Good for courtship and marriages.
26. A very unfortunate day.
27. Better keep quiet today.
28. A good day on which to visit friends.
29. Good for love affairs.
30. Fortunate for those in love and for those seeking employment.

QUARTERLY COURT.

Judge Lightfoot convened quarterly court this morning, but continued all the cases set for today until the next term. There are several cases set for Friday, however, that will probably be tried.

BIG BLAZE

Tobacco Worth About $1,500 Burned at Water Valley.

It Belonged to Paducah Gentlemen—There Was no Insurance.

The big tobacco rehandling house of J. T. Farmer, at Water Valley, Ky., was burned to the ground at 3 o'clock this morning with a great loss, the exact amount of which cannot be determined.

A telephone message to Mr. Farmer this morning stated that the cause of the blaze could not be learned, but it started about 2 o'clock and that the house and nearly all the 25,000 pounds of leaf stored within was destroyed. The tobacco was valued at about $1,500, and belonged to Mr. Sam Hubbard, of the city, who is associated with Mr. Farmer in the tobacco business. It is understood that there is no insurance on the building and tobacco, and the loss will be heavy on the owners.

MRS. SCHRAEDER'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Mrs. C. F. Schraeder will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the German Lutheran church on South Fourth street, burial at Oak Grove.

Mrs. J. H. Posey, of Chicago, returned home today after a visit to her friend, Mrs. Root, on South Third.

MILITARY ORDER IN EMERGENCY.

Amongst Commands Given by Missouri Officer to His Company.

Capt. Verne M. Bouvie, of this city, who raised and commanded a company in an Ohio regiment in the Spanish-American war, tells of a very unusual order he heard given by an officer of a Missouri regiment at Camp Meade. "The Missouri's company was coming down a muddy road," said Capt. Bouvie, "and presently they came to a place where only two abreast could pass. The company was in a column of fours, and the problem of getting them past puzzled their commander completely. The correct order was 'Right, by twos.' After some hesitation he shouted peremptorily: 'Gee round that puddle!'"

"The company had evidently been better drilled than their commander, for they broke into a column of twos. When they had passed the water I listened eagerly for the next command. After some delay the officer shouted sharply:

"'Twos inter fours, right smart; git.'"—New York Tribune.

Don't Cough—Take Honey.

Starch and sugar, when eaten, undergo a digestive change before they are assimilated. In honey this change has been made to a considerable extent by the bees. It is easy of assimilation and concentration, and furnishes the same element of nutrition as sugar and starch—imparts warmth and energy.

As a medicine honey has great value and many uses. It is excellent in most lung and throat affections, and is often used with great benefit in place of cod-liver oil. Occasionally there is a person with whom it does not agree, but most people can learn to use it with beneficial results.

Children, who have more natural appetites, generally prefer it to butter. Honey is laxative and sedative. It has much the same effect as wine or stimulant, without the injurious effects. As an external application it is irritating when pure, and soothing when diluted. In many places it is much appreciated as a remedy for croup and colds. In preserving fruit, the formic acid it contains makes a better preservative than sugar-syrup, and it is also used in cooking and confectionery.

Churches of Various Countries.

Australia has most churches in proportion to population; the United States stands next; England is third; and Spain takes fourth place.

Famous European Tree.

One of the most famous trees in Europe was recently destroyed by a storm. It was a poplar and had stood for centuries near Wittstock, in Germany. Of great size, it was also remarkable for the historical events with which it was connected, as well as for the fact that in course of time some of its branches had assumed grotesque forms of animals. The branches were so interlaced and twisted that at one point they presented the appearance of a monkey preparing to climb to the top. This tree was popularly known as the "Swedish tree," because it was a witness of the battle of Sept. 24, 1886, in which the Swedes fought against the Germans. It was also known as the "Baner Poplar," because Gens. Baner and Tortenson knelt beneath it and thanked God for giving them the victory. Though the old tree is dead, an offshoot, which grew beside it, was uninjured by the storm, and with the object of preserving it more effectually an iron railing is to be placed around it, and beside it is to be erected a monument, on which will be inscribed the history of the famous poplar.

Holy Coat of Treves.

The holy coat preserved at Treves, in Germany, is claimed to be the seamless garment worn by Christ, and for which the Roman soldiers cast lots during the crucifixion. It is a tunic, about five feet long, cut narrow at the shoulders and gradually widening at the knees. Many miracles are said to have been performed by this robe. Its history for the last 700 years is clear enough, but darkness shrouds the story of the relic to the twelfth century. The Catholic Church relies for proof of its authenticity upon a tradition that it was one of a chestful of relics sent as a gift to the church at Treves by the Empress Helena. She is said to have found the coat at Jerusalem while in search of the cross. A legend says that in the ninth century the holy coat was concealed from the Normans in a crypt of the cathedral. There it remained forgotten until 1196, when it was rediscovered and placed in the high altar.

Influence of Music on Animals.

Some very curious experiments have recently been carried out in the Berlin zoological gardens in order to ascertain the actual influence of music upon animals. The instrument was the violin and Herr Baker was the performer. Of all the animals the puma was the most sensitive to the musical influence. His moods changed rapidly according to the nature of the melody, the animal frequently becoming very excited and nervous. "Just like a Frenchman," as the report says. Leopards were entirely unconcerned, but the lions appeared to be afraid, although their cubs wanted to dance when the music became livelier. The hyenas were very much terrified, but the monkeys were merely curious and interested. Wolves, on the other hand, were highly appreciative, and seemed to beg for an encore.

How He Was Handicapped.

He was a Broadway policeman and a tremendously large one. He loomed up like a huge blue elephant, and as the lady waited on the corner near him for a car, she couldn't help saying something about his size, he looked so good natured. She rather inclined to believe that it was in the way. "Well, no'm," he said, "it comes very handy when I've got to push and shove through a crowd, or to reach around and help a lot of ladies over the street, or to catch a runaway and swing onto him, but ma'am, and he sighed, "when it comes to buying pants, ready made, it's a h—"

Sunday Observance.

The earliest recognition of the observance of Sunday as a legal duty is a constitution of Constantine in 321 A. D. enacting that all courts of justice and all workshops were to be at rest on Sunday. Charlemagne in the west forbade labor of any kind on Sunday. At first the tendency was to observe the Sabbath (Saturday) rather than Sunday. Later the Sabbath and Sunday came to be celebrated at the same period, but after the time of Constantine the observance of the Sabbath practically ceased. Sunday observance was directed by injunctions of both Edward VI and Elizabeth.

DEAD FROGS.

WERE KILLED BY COFFEE.

15-1000th of a single grain of caffeine from coffee will kill a frog of moderate size. The frogs die of general paralysis following violent tetanic convulsions.

Falek, Stuhlmann, Brill, Johansen, Leven and other famous scientists and investigators have repeatedly proven it.

This same alkaloid caffeine, a powerful cerebro-spinal stimulant and diuretic irritant, was originally discovered in 1820. Eight years later theine was discovered in tea, and the two drugs were afterwards proven to be identical. Caffeine in coffee causes the sleeplessness, increased frequency of the pulse, tremulousness of heart and frequent urination noticed after drinking strong coffee. This explains the cause of the nervous diseases that frequently come to regular coffee and tea drinkers. The drug slowly and surely poisons the system and finally brings on some form of fixed disease like valvular heart disease, dyspepsia, kidney complaint or some other, unless the person is strong enough to stand up against the drug.

Practically every steady coffee or tea drinker shows some form of incipient disease. Ask any one you know and you will seldom find one entirely well.

Where's the use in slugging and dragging the poor old body until it totters and trembles with diseased nerves?

Can't quit?

It is one of the easiest things you ever tried to do if you will have Postum Food Coffee made right and served hot with good cream and sugar.

There is the deep seal brown of rich coffee that turns to golden brown when cream is added. Then the flavor is unique, all its own. Try it ten days or two weeks and your dyspepsia will either leave or show good signs of leaving, and your heart and pulse be stronger than for a long time back. It is one of the most delicious sensations known, to feel returning health and vigor.

Health make heaven here on earth, and people can have it if they will but live as nature intended.

Quit coffee and use the food beverage, Postum Coffee.

THEY'RE BAD, BAD, BAD.

Fulton, Sept. 3.—The citizens of this town are determined to make an example of the first tramp caught in town. For several days the officers have been kept busy running them out, and one who became impudent Monday was locked up until today and carried out of the city. Something serious will happen to the first hobo, black or white, caught here after dark.

STARTS A PAPER IN KUTTAWA.

Mr. Clarence Albritton, a well known newspaper man of near Mayfield, who has worked in Paducah, left today for Kuttawa, where he will with Mr. John L. Smith start a new paper in a few days.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 3.—John W. Gates, the millionaire Chicagoan, and John A. Drake, of the same city, will start a new independent turf association, with headquarters in New York, according to leakage of secrets here today.

The new organization will conduct tracks at New York, Washington, Cincinnati, Chicago, Memphis, St. Louis, San Francisco and in Canada. It will be known as the American Jockey club, and will be independent of both the Western and New York Jockey clubs.

Millions of dollars will be behind the new deal, and a big upheaval in the turf world is looked for. St. Louis will be represented by the parties who conducted the recent Kinloch meeting.

Information concerning the big deal was reluctantly given out today by Clem Creveling and Harry Harris, both of whom are connected with the recent Kinloch club meeting.

Observationsat Random

Clerk Dan McFadden of the post-office was sorting some mail the other day, and just for curiosity decided he would copy the various spellings of the word "Paducah" he came across in the addresses. In a comparatively small package he found the following, indicating what he might have found had he searched farther:

Peducah, Paducha, Paduca; Paduah, Paduch, Paduach, Paduckie, Paduchay, Paudcha, Paduch, Paudch, Paducoashiky, Paduchah, Padicah, Paduka.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, author of "Adventures of Sherlock Holmes" and "The Hound of the Baskervilles," said at a dinner of the Authors' club in London recently that he received the first intimation of the news of his knighthood through a bill from his gunsmith, which was addressed to "Sir Sherlock Holmes." The clerk who sent the bill did not mean it as a joke, but wrote the superscription because he had heard that men who are knighted adopt a new name, and that Dr. Conan Doyle would naturally take the name of his famous detective.

Hereafter only smooth-faced men will be allowed to milk cows and deliver milk to the milk depots in this part of the state, says The New York Sun. In a recent report the milk commission of New York suggested the innovation on the ground that a man with whiskers milking a cow was liable to impregnate the milk with germs, because whiskers are or may be microbe collectors. The various managers of the milk depots have decided that the suggestion was a good one, and will issue an order that all milk delivered to them must be drawn by beardless men. They say that with ordinary cleanliness the dust from the stable is liable to infect the beard, and that the whiskered man must go as far as they are concerned.

Speaking of suicides and the purchase of drugs with which to commit self destruction, a good joke is told on a well known druggist of Paducah. He is a staunch Democrat, and his experience in the drug business has been such that he can usually tell whether a person wants poison to commit suicide or for something else.

If a man comes in and asks for ten cents' worth of morphine, and he notices a strange look in the prospective customer's eyes, it is said he asks him: "What are your politics?"

Should he say "Republican," the druggist replies: "Yes sir, yes sir! Want only ten cents worth?"

If the man is a Democrat, however, and has the strange look in his eyes, the druggist will not let him have the poison for love or money.

The Labor day committee that put out the posters for the celebration last Monday in Paducah played a good joke on themselves. They had a large number of advertisements printed, and billed all the surrounding towns from Cairo to Paducah on the river, Fulton to Paducah, and Central City to Paducah, on the Illinois Central, and Paris, Tenn., on the N. C. and St. L.

Last Saturday they discovered that not once on the bills did the word Paducah appear. The only thing on the glaring posters that would indicate where the big affair was to take place was the name, "La Belle park." As everybody has not heard of La Belle park, it is probable many wondered when they read the bills. The committee was very much disconcerted over its oversight, and probably wanted to keep it secret, but the joke was too good to keep.

Chief of Police James Collins seems to possess peculiar power of penetration that has made him such a terror to evil-doers as well as served him well in his detective work for many years past.

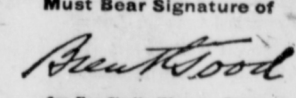

The other day Chief Collins was asked by a newspaper reporter for an item. He didn't have any handy just then, but pointing across the street to the form of a stranger who walked erect and resembled in features the late General Robert E. Lee, he said: "See that old man? Well you'll be getting a good item out of him some of these days. You ought to go over and talk to him so you'll know something about him."

Marshal Collins didn't know anything of the venerable stranger then, but afterwards became interested in him and when the old fellow was found dead in his bed yesterday, Chief Collins was the only man in town who knew where to telegraph to notify relatives. He had assisted the stranger often, and learned that he had seen better days, and was once a man of great prominence. Something seemed to tell the chief that the old man was nearing the end of life's journey, and he gave the reporter a tip that was perhaps not fully appreciated, but proved to be the real thing.

A sight was witnessed this morning early that ought to be a good argument against the town cow. A grocery wagon had stopped in front of a residence while the driver went inside, and a cow came up while he was gone. Her horns seemed to have been made for the especial purpose of dislodging the baskets so she could devour the contents. And she did so, no doubt to the dismay of the owner of the basket when the loss was discovered.

...

The gallery at The Kentucky was almost incorrigible last night. It whooped and yelled and hissed until Manager English had to publicly threaten to close it entirely in the future in order to keep disreputable and objectionable characters out of the house. It looks as if the city might send an officer there. The taxpayers pay for police protection, and many of them go to the opera house to spend a pleasant evening, and are entitled to protection from the class of men and boys who go into the gallery, and in the absence of an officer attempt to and often do, destroy the peace and comfort of the respectable people. If the people who pay taxes for the maintenance of a police force are not to get it in places of this kind, where are they ever to get it?

DEVoured BY WORMS.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from inanition, their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother. 25c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

KIDNAPPED

THE ADVENTURES OF DAVID BALFOUR IN THE YEAR 1751

BY ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

The roundhouse, for which I was bound and where I was now to sleep and serve, stood some six feet above the decks, and considering the size of the brig, was of good dimensions. Inside were a fixed table and bench and two berts, one for the captain and the other for the two mates, turn and turn about. It was all fitted with lockers from top to bottom, so as to stow away the officers' belongings and a part of the ship's stores. There was a second storeroom underneath, which you entered by a hatchway in the middle of the deck. Indeed, all the best of the meat and drink and the whole of the powder were collected in this place, and all the firearms except the two pieces of brass ordnance were set in a rack in the aftermost wall of the roundhouse. The most of the out-lasies were in another place.

A small window with a shutter on each side and a skylight in the roof gave it light by day, and after dark there was a lamp always burning. It was burning when I entered, not brightly, but enough to show Mr. Shuan sitting at the table, with the brandy bottle and a tin pannikin in front of him. He was a tall man, strongly made and very black, and he stared before him on the table like one stupid.

He took no notice of my coming in, nor did he move when the captain followed and leaned on the berth beside me, looking darkly at the mate. I stood in great fear of Hoseason, and had my reasons for it, but something told me I need not be afraid of him just then, and I whispered in his ear, "How is he?" He shook his head like one that does not know and does not wish to think, and his face was very stern.

Presently Mr. Riach came in. He gave the captain a glance that meant the boy was dead as plain as speaking, and took his place like the rest of us; so that we all three stood without a word, staring down at Mr. Shuan, and Mr. Shuan (on his side) sat without a word, looking hard upon the table.

All of a sudden he put out his hand to take the bottle; and at that Mr. Riach started forward and caught it away from him, rather by surprise than violence, crying out with an oath that there had been too much of this work altogether, and that a judgment would fall upon the ship. And as he spoke (the weather sliding doors standing open) he tossed the bottle into the sea.

Mr. Shuan was on his feet in a trice. He still looked dazed, but he meant murder, aye, and would have done it for the second time that night had not the captain stepped in between him and his victim.

"Sit down!" roars the captain. "Ye sot and swine, do ye know what ye've done? Ye've murdered the boy!" Mr. Shuan seemed to understand, for he sat down again and put up his hand to his brow.

"Well," he said, "he brought me a dirty pannikin."

At that word the captain and I and Mr. Riach all looked at each other for a second with a kind of frightened look, and then Hoseason walked up to his chief officer, took him by the shoulder, led him across to his bunk and bade him lie down and go to sleep, as you might speak to a bad child. The murderer cried a little, but he took off his boots and obeyed.

"Ah!" cried Mr. Riach with a dreadful voice, "ye should have interfered long syne. It's too late now."

"Mr. Riach," said the captain, "this night's work must never be kept in Dylart. The boy went overboard, sir; that's what the story is, and I would give five pounds out of my pocket it was true!" He turned to the table. "What made ye throw the good bottle away?" he asked. "There was nae sense in that, sir. Here, David, draw me another. They're in the bottom locker," and he tossed me a key. "Ye'll need a glass yourself, sir," he added to Riach. "You was an ugly thing to see."

So the pair sat down and hobbled, and while they did so the murderer, who had been lying and whimpering in his berth, raised himself upon his elbow and looked at them and at me.

That was the first night of my new duties, and in the course of the next day I had got well into the run of them. I had to serve at the meals which the captain took at regular hours, sitting down with the officer who was off duty; all the day through I would be running with a dram to one or the other of my three masters, and at night I slept on a blanket thrown on the deck boards at the aftermost end of the roundhouse and right in the draft of the two doors. It was a hard and a cold bed, nor was I suffered to sleep without interruption, for some one would be always coming in from deck to get a dram, and when a fresh watch was to be set two and sometimes all three would sit down and brew a bowl together. How they kept their health I know not, any more than how I kept my own.

And yet in other ways it was an easy service. There was no cloth to lay; the meals were either of oatmeal porridge or salt junk, except twice a week, when there was duff, and though I was clumsy enough, and (not being firm on my sea legs) sometimes fell with what I was bringing them, both Mr. Riach and the captain were singularly patient. I could not but fancy they were making up leeway with their consciences, and that they would scarce have been so good with me if they had not been worse with Ransome.

I was as well fed as the best of them; even their pickles, which were the great dainty, I was allowed my share of, and had I liked I might have been drunk from morning to night, like Mr. Shuan. I had company, too, and good company of its sort. Mr. Riach, who had been to the college, spoke to me like a friend when he was not sulking, and told me many curious things, and some that were informing, and even the captain, though he kept me at the stick's end the most part of the time, would sometimes unbuckle a bit and tell me of the fine countries he had visited.

The shadow of poor Ransome, to be sure, lay on all four of us, and on me and Mr. Shuan in particular most heavily. And then I had another trouble of my own. Here I was, doing dirty work for three men that I looked down upon, and one of whom at least should have hung upon a gallows that was for the present, and as for the future, I could only see myself slaving alongside of negroes in the tobacco fields. Mr. Riach, perhaps from caution, would never suffer me to say another word about my story; the captain, whom I tried to approach, rebuffed me like a dog, and would not hear a word, and as the days came and went my heart sank lower and lower till I was even glad of the work, which kept me from thinking.

CHAPTER IX.

THE MAN WITH THE BELT OF GOLD.

More than a week went by, in which the ill luck that had hitherto pursued the Covenant upon this voyage grew yet more strongly marked. Some days she made a little way; others she was driven actually back. At last we were beaten so far to the south that we tossed and tacked to and fro the whole of the ninth day within sight of Cape Wrath and the wild, rocky coast on either hand of it. There followed on that a council of the officers, and some decision which I did not rightly understand, seeing only the result—that we had made a fair wind of a foul one and were running south.

The tenth afternoon there was a falling swell and a thick, white, wet fog that hid one end of the brig from the other. All afternoon, when I went on deck, I saw men and officers listening hard over the bulwarks—"for breakers," they said, and though I did not so much as understand the word, I felt danger in the air and was excited.

Maybe about ten at night I was serving Mr. Riach and the captain at their supper, when the ship struck something with a great sound and we heard voices singing out. My two masters leaped to their feet.

"She's struck," said Mr. Riach.

"No, sir," said the captain. "We've only run a boat down."

And they hurried out.

The captain was in the right of it. We had run down a boat in the fog, and she had parted in the midst and gone to the bottom with all her crew but one. This man (as I heard afterward) had been sitting in the stern as a passenger, while the rest were on the benches rowing. At the moment of the blow the stern had been thrown into the air, and the man (having his hands free, and for all he was encumbered with a frize overcoat that came below his knees) had leaped up and caught hold of the brig's bowsprit. It showed he had luck and much agility and unusual strength that he should have thus saved himself from such a pass. And yet, when the captain brought him into the roundhouse and I set eyes on him for the first time, he looked as cool as I did.

DEATH AT METROPOLIS.

Mrs. Dave Peters, aged 45, died at her home in Metropolis, Ill., yesterday, leaving a husband and one son. The deceased was a daughter-in-law of Col. A. J. Peters of Metropolis and a relative of Mrs. A. E. White of the city. The funeral took place today.

Mark Twain's Cousin.

G. C. Clemens, of Topeka, Kan., the noted constitutional lawyer, who bears so striking a resemblance to Mark Twain, (Samuel B. Clemens) that he is frequently taken for the original Mark, is a man of deep intellect and wide experience. He is considered one of the foremost lawyers in this country. In a recent letter to the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Mr. Clemens says:

"Personal experience and observation have thoroughly satisfied me that Dr. Miles' Nerve contains true merit, and is excellent for what it is recommended."

Mr. Norman Waltrip, Sup. Pres. Bankers' Fraternal Society, Chicago, says:

Dr. Miles' Pain Pills

are invaluable for headache and all pain. I had been a great sufferer from headache until I learned of the efficacy of Dr. Miles' Pain Pills. Now I always carry them and prevent recurring attacks by taking a pill when the symptoms first appear.

SEVERAL WEDDINGS

The Hart-Lesh Marriage This Afternoon at 5 O'clock.

One Couple Marries in St. Louis—An Approaching Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Virginia Lesh and Mr. George B. Hart, as previously announced, will take place this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D. The ushers are Messrs. O. F. Rieke, Abram Weil, Dennis Mocquot and Edson Hart. The couple will leave after the ceremony on an extended bridal trip north.

Rev. J. C. Reid left this afternoon for Metropolis to perform the marriage ceremony of Rev. H. W. Stevens, who will tonight at 8 o'clock be married to Miss Lula McGhee, both of Metropolis.

The marriage will be performed at the residence of the bride at 8 o'clock and will be one of the biggest marriages in Metropolis for some time. Rev. Reid will remain over night and return tomorrow.

Mr. Andy Clark and Miss Cora Williams, well known Paducahans, were married last evening in St. Louis, and after a several days' wedding trip will be at home to friends in Paducah. The marriage will prove a pleasant surprise to their many friends here, who had not been let into the secret. The bride is a leading milliner, with a large circle of friends, and Mr. Clark has for many years been book-keeper and cashier for the L. B. Ogilvie Dry Goods company.

The marriage of Mr. Joe Vogt and Mrs. Clara Rosalie Bader, well known people of Paducah, was a pleasant surprise to their many friends last night. They were married at the Methodist District Parsonage near 11th and Jefferson streets at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. H. B. Johnston officiating, and will reside at Mr. Vogt's residence, 1014 South Twelfth. Mr. Vogt has for several years had charge of the tailoring department of B. Weille and Sons, and Mrs. Bader is an estimable lady formerly employed at the Racket store, and popular with a large circle of friends.

Mr. Fred English, the well known employe of the 'Sutherland Medicine Co., and Miss Mattie Preston, formerly of the telephone exchange, will on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock be married at the residence of Rev. L. B. Duncan by that minister. Mr. English has been a resident of the city all his life, and is an industrious young man with many friends who will wish him success in his new life. His bride is a popular young lady of the North Side and will have the best wishes of her many friends and admirers.

Mr. H. W. Waggener, of Evansville, a well known traveling man, and bride arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and are visiting Mr. C. W. Collie, the insurance man, the groom's brother-in-law. Mr. Waggener and Miss Tilly Kroeger, of Evansville, were married in that city yesterday morning and left immediately after the ceremony for this place to visit. Mr. Waggener is one of the best known traveling men running out of Evansville, and his bride is a popular and attractive young lady of that city.

TRAVELING MAN DEAD.

Huntington, Sept. 3—Frank Vickers, a widely known traveling man of this city, died in New York City Sunday of typhoid fever. Mr. Vickers traveled for an Indianapolis house. He was 35 years of age and unmarried. The remains were sent to Murfreesboro, the home of his brother, Dr. Will Vickers, where they were interred today.

FINE DANCING MASTER

Prof. Mahler, One of the Finest in the World, Coming Here.

Paducah Is Also to Have One of the Best Male Teachers in Country.

Paducah is to have one of the finest dancing masters in the world. Prof. John Mahler, of St. Louis, one of the best known in the country, has consented to come here and open a school, and a letter received from him this morning states that he and his wife will arrive September 12 to open their school.

The reason Paducah is able to secure such a high class artist is that Prof. Mahler, who was master of ceremonies at one of the big hotels at South Haven, Mich., where a number of prominent Paducah people spent the summer, was prevailed on to come here and open a school. He was urged to such an extent that after giving the matter due consideration he concluded to come, and will be here the 12th.

Paducah is also to have one of the finest preparatory schools for boys in the country. A number of prominent people enlisted the services of Congressman Charles K. Wheeler, who secured at considerable expense Prof. Peck of Washington, to come here and teach a class. The number of pupils is limited to fifteen, and there are already twelve signed. No one except those invited by the citizens who secured Prof. Peck will be admitted. It is his intention to prepare boys for college, and after a four years' course in the preparatory school they will be ready to enter any college.

Prof. Peck came direct from Washington and has his quarters at the Y. M. C. A. building.

REMAINS TO BE HELD.

AGED STRANGER'S RELATIVES HEARD FROM THIS MORNING.

Coroner Wm. Peal, who last evening telegraphed to supposed relatives of W. E. Crissey, the old man found dead in bed at his boarding house on North Third street yesterday morning, this morning received a telegram from G. B. Crissey of St. Louis stating that the family had been notified and to hold the remains until further instructions. The body is still at the Nance undertaking establishment.

PADUCAH AERONAUT.

WILL MAKE SEVERAL ASCENSIONS AT CAIRO THIS WEEK.

Aeronaut James Underwood, of the city, left this morning for Cairo, where he will make several balloon ascensions this week. He will make his first tomorrow and one every day subsequently during the carnival.

Prof. Underwood is becoming quite celebrated as an aeronaut, and has made many successful ascensions.

Mr. J. E. Wilkins returned to his home in Kuttawa this morning.
